

March 12, 2020

Dear Students,

Governor Jared Polis (<https://www.facebook.com/jaredpolis/>) had declared a state of emergency for the state of Colorado. All higher education schools in the state will be closing their campuses and moving to virtual classrooms, with CU Boulder moving to virtual classes Monday, March 16th.

In order to ensure the safety of our students, the Dr. Ida Rolf Institute will be postponing the UB2.20 and UC3.20 classes until July and September. The new dates are as follows: UB2.20 7/13-9/4/2020 and UC3.20 9/21-11/13/2020 with the UC3.20 Assessment Panel from 11/16-11/18/2020.

Any student who needs to withdraw from classes will receive a tuition refund, and will need to request entry into another pipeline. Otherwise, any tuition paid will be applied toward the rescheduled class. Please note because this is a national emergency the Institute cannot reimburse housing or travel costs.

After careful consultation with the faculty, the AT 3.19 Jan Sultan class in Los Angeles is canceled and will be rescheduled for fall 2020 or early 2021. We will let students know of the new dates asap.

Students enrolled in all other continuing education classes for March and April will need to contact the faculty offering the class on possible cancellations.

As of this date, the RM1.20 class is still scheduled to start 5/4-5/15. Students will be notified one week prior to the start date if there are any changes.

Additional information:

The Colorado Department of Public Health & Environment (CDPHE) (<https://www.colorado.gov/pacific/cdphe/2019-novel-coronavirus>) provides current information on Covid 19 virus in Colorado. CDPHE is opening the state's first drive up center at 8100 E. Lowry Boulevard in Denver.
